Frequently Asked Questions

Q. Are you licensed for civil ceremonies?

A. Yes, we have 2 function suites licensed for up to 70 guests, contact for prices and packages.

Q. Are there any smoking restrictions?

A. We will be happy to discuss these with you.

Q. Are candles allowed?

A. We do allow candles in most areas as long as they are deemed safe. To avoid any damage through spills of hot wax, we ask that they be contained within enclosed holders.

Q. Do you offer a package?

A. We offer a price list with the breakdown of all our costs. We offer many options in addition to what is on the price list, allowing you to tailor make your special day.

Q. Do we need a toastmaster?

A. It is not necessary, although a good toastmaster will ensure that your day runs smoothly, relieving you of the worries. You can always allow one of your ushers this responsibility.

Q. Do I have to pay full price for the children?

A. There are no restrictions on bringing children into the Royal Arms, but we do ask in the interests of safety that they are properly supervised by their parents/guardians. Under no circumstances are the children allowed in public spaces, including the restaurant and on the lawns or paddock without strict adult supervision. We offer a 50% reduction for children under 10 choosing off the main menu. Highchairs can be provided, but unfortunately we are unable to offer a child-minding service.

Q. What time can we gain access to our venue?

A. This will very much depend on the time of your wedding reception, but we will make every effort to accommodate you.

Q. Do you offer special room rates?

A. Most of our wedding packages taking place in the Dovecote Room and in the marquees include complimentary accommodation for the bride and the groom. Check in time is officially after 3pm. Several brides prefer to stay overnight prior to the wedding and get ready on the site. For your guests attending your special occasion, we offer preferential rates. Deposits are required, with contact phone numbers and credit card numbers. Prices will be discussed at the time of booking. Check out is required by 11am the following morning.

Q. Can we bring our own caterers?

A. No outside catering is permitted. All catering will be supplied by the Royal Arms or by one of our own caterers. The only exception to this rule is your wedding cake.

Q. Can we bring our own drinks?

A. The Royal Arms has a strict policy not to allow drinks to be brought onto its premises. We offer a comprehensive wine list and are usually able to source any special requests. We also offer an extensive range of spirits. If drinks are brought onto the premises a corkage fee will be charged to your credit card, or your event will be closed down.

Q. Should we serve canapés on arrival?

A. It is often a good idea, as your guests may not have eaten for some time, especially if they have travelled some distance.

Q. Which menus can we choose?

A. Our wedding packages include sit-down wedding breakfast menus as well as buffets. We are happy to tailor make a menu to suit your requirements. An extra cost may be incurred. SOME FOODS ON ALL MENUS MAY CONTAIN TRACES OF NUTS

Q. Will our guests need anything further to eat later in the evening?

A. We find that a provision of a buffet or a hog roast is popular with guests. If you have extra people joining the celebrations after the meal, we do insist that 80% of your total number of guests is catered for.

Q. What about table plans and place cards?

A. Most of our weddings have a table plan and it is often the most complicated thing you will have to arrange. We find that most of our customers prefer to use their own supplier, so the items match up with their wedding stationery. We will be happy to ensure the table plan is displayed and are happy to lay the place cards out for you but ask that they are given to us in table order and marked per table. The place cards must also include the meal choices of your guests to remind them of their meal choices when they pre-ordered their meals.

Q. What about my flowers?

A. We do not provide the flowers for your wedding, but we are happy to give you contacts of local florists.

Q. Can we bring our own disco?

A. We have our own resident DJ and are happy to provide a quote. You can supply your own if you so wish but a PAT (Portable Appliance Test) certificate will need to be provided.

Q. How late can our party go on until?

A. We will be happy to discuss this with you. Entertainment is strictly until midnight.

Q. Where will we have the photographs, drinks, dinner and dancing?

A. When you make your booking we will advise you of the most suitable areas to hold your celebration according to the numbers attending.

Q. What about wedding presents?

A. We are happy to provide a present table so that the gifts are contained in one area, but please be advised that it is your responsibility to ensure that they are collected at the end of the evening by either yourselves or your representative. This also applies to any table decorations, cameras, mementos that you may wish to keep. The Royal Arms cannot accept any responsibility for items left unattended.

Q. Do you require a deposit?

A. A deposit of £500.00 is required at the time of confirming your booking. In addition, a credit card or equivalent guarantee might be required. The remaining balance will be payable 4 weeks before your function is to take place. If the balance is not received, the Royal Arms shall have the right to cancel the function on giving the client 24 hours notice either verbally or in writing, in which event the deposit will be forfeited.
